CENTRAL COMING TO ADA FRIDAY

THE DOPE IS IN FAVOR OF THE VISITORS BUT PEDAGOGGS
EXPECT TO OVERCOME
BY BEING AT HOME.

The Pedagoggs came through the game with the high school in excellent physical condition and are expecting to be in the best trim of the season for their big game of the year Friday when Wantland brings his team from Edmond to the local field. Conn Roach demonstrated in the high school game that he is getting back into shape to go through a hard game. Kidd, the regular center, who was held out of the local game because of a bad knee, is improving and will doubtless be able to get into the big fray in good condition. "Heinie" Heard, who has had a stiff knee for several weeks, is also improving and should have his old-time form when the whistle blows Friday.

Wantland's team will come to Ada with the odds somewhat in their favor based upon the records of the two teams. The two direct lines on the teams are through Kendall and Southwestern. Kendall defeated East Central 58-0 and defeated Central 67-7. This shows them up about even. But East Central was defeated by Southwestern 6-2 and Central won from Southwestern 19-0. This is favorable to Central. Each team defeated the Catholics and the Baptists by practically the same score.

However, this has always been the case when Central has come to Ada. In fact the dope has usually been much more strongly in favor of the visitors. On two of the three occasions that Central has appeared here East Central has been able to upset the dope and this year the team is expecting to do the same.

THE NON-ADVERTISING MAN

In a non-advertising town, the easy going merchant would live a comfortable life unless he spoiled his peace of mind by cherishing ambitions. If he kept a clean looking store, on a good location, he would get his share of the trade. Business would go by luck and chance and personal friendship and habit.

The store that had the best location would get the most trade. People would buy at the store where they could save the most steps. They would not go around a corner to get better values, because they would not know those values were there.

Retail trade would come down to a dead level of uniformity. A man who did his best and gave good values would be pretty sure of a meager living. But there would be no chance for him to get ahead. He could not get any public support to back him up when he showed a spirit of enterprise.

And the shopper, the buying public, does not have the advantages in a non-advertising town that he does in the advertising town. The business man in the non-advertising town is a dead one, whether he knows it or not.

WHAT BIG COAL MEN NOW HAVE TO SAY

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The scale committee of bituminous miners and operators in the central competitive field went into executive session today to negotiate a wage contract after federal fuel Administrator Garfield had urged upon them the necessity for adjusting their differences and producing the coal needed by the country.

Speaking with the authority of President Wilson's cabinet Fuel Administrator Garfield told representatives of the bituminous operators and miners here today that "the people of the United States must have and will have coal" and as long as the government stands they will not be prevented from getting it by "anything the operators or miners may do."

Dr. Garfield explained that his purpose was to furnish the conference with the data which he would use in determining what wage increases, if any, could be borne properly by the public.

Dr. Garfield said he was not yet prepared to say what conditions could reasonably be made in the price of coal as all the necessary information was not in hand. One of the items not yet determined, he said, was that of the federal income taxes for 1918 which the operators have claimed should be included in the cost of operation. The government has disputed this.

RHODE ISLAND MEN FIGHT PROHIBITION

By the Associated Press
BOSTON, Nov. 19.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today issued an order staying execution of the preliminary injunction granted by Judge Arthur L. Brown restraining federal officials in Rhode Island from enforcing the prohibition act.

UNITED STATES FUEL ADMINISTRATION BUSY

By the Associated Press
DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 19.—All supplies of bituminous coal from the docks at the head of the lakes to industries over the northwest regarded as non-essential, were cut off under order this morning by W. H. Groverman, United States Fuel Administrator for the district.

Hay Barn Burns.

The fire alarm sounded at 11 o'clock this morning when a hay barn belonging to M. P. Donaghey, across the street from the Ada Greenhouse, had caught fire. It was set by some small boys playing in it. The barn, including 50 bales of hay, was destroyed with a loss of about $400.00, being a total loss, as there was no insurance. A large barn close by was saved by the prompt action of the Ada fire department who applied chemicals, etc., to save it. Mr. Donaghey and Mr. Pitt especially appreciate the work of the fire boys. The fire was outside the city limits and the fire department did not have to respond to the call. Fortunately the wind was blowing in a favorable direction or the large barn and residence would probably have caught fire also.

Marriage license was issued to Mr. J. N. Covalt of Muskogee and Miss Dorothy Stevens of Kansas City, Mo.

DALLAS, TEXAS IS IN FAVOR OF OPEN SHOP

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 18.—Dallas will have the distinction of being the first large "open shop" city in the country.

Business men and industrial chiefs at a meeting today, agreed to no longer treat with organized union labor.

"Continued and unreasonable demands of labor unions menace the city's welfare," the announcement said. "We will no longer deal with organizations that flagrantly break their contracts."

According to the decision, union men will have to work with non-union men, if they work at all in Dallas. It was said strikes were expected but industrial concerns were prepared to meet them.

Labor leaders predicted tonight there would be a general walkout that would result in complete tie-up and paralysis of business in Dallas. They said unions in other cities might be called upon to go out in sympathy. The building trades crafts would be called out Wednesday, they said.

MEETING THE COAL SITUATION AT HOME

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 19.—The Governor is enclosing you a copy of his proclamation for "Fuel Day," November 26th, in which he urges every community to lay aside all other work on this day to gather wood, or make other arrangements by installing oil stoves, oil burners or any other substitute for coal.

I do not believe there will be any coal for private industries or individual homes for sixty days, or in any considerable amount all winter. We must meet this situation in some way, so the people will not suffer from cold or lack of fuel to cook with. Even should the miners return to work in the next ten days, the gap made in the production at time cannot be entirely filled this winter.

Thanking you to stress this matter, bringing to the attention of the people the necessity of making some provisions at this time, I am,
Yours very truly,
J. A. Whitehurst,
Chairman State Council Defense.

LONE BANDIT HOLDS UP PASSENGER TRAIN

By the Associated Press
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 19.—Seven posses and a troop of cavalry from Fort Russell today were searching the hills and brushlands in a wide area from Medicine Bow to William Carlisle, trained bandit, who last night robbed passenger Union Central train No. 19, the Los Angeles Limited, and escaped into the darkness, wounded in a shower of bullets. The bandit secured about $250. Carlisle boarded the train at Rock River, entered a tourist's sleeping car by smashing a vestibule window, fired on roof of car to terrify the passengers, and "forced all old men, women and children, soldiers and sailors to contribute." "I do not rob these," he told the passengers. As Carlisle stood in the vestibule a passenger fired at close range and the bandit is said to have escaped. Passengers are positive that from descriptions the bandit is the one who escaped from the state penitentiary at Rawlins recently.

THE PRESIDENT IN ADVISORY CAPACITY

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—A letter from President Wilson, advising senators to vote against ratification of the treaty with foreign relations committee reservations was laid before a conference of senatorial forces today by Democratic Leader Hitchcock.

The committee program, the President said in his letter, would provide not ratification, "but rather qualification of the treaty."

The conference had been called to decide upon final administration statistics in the fight for ratification which is expected to come to an end today or tomorrow. After the President's letter was read, there were indications that unless a compromise could be effected, the senators would line up almost solidly against the ratification.

CINCINNATI LEGION BOYS RAID SOCIALIST QUARTERS

By the Associated Press
CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 18.—Members of the American Legion, nearly 300, led by officers, descended upon Socialists here last night and two hundred pounds of radical literature was thrown into the streets, a bonfire made and it all burned. Most of it had been printed for the communist labor party of America. No one was in the building when the raid was made.

MEDALS FOR BRAVERY AWARDED AT DETROIT

By the Associated Press
DETROIT, Nov. 19.—Medals for bravery and devotion on the war fields of France or elsewhere will be presented to eight Young Men's Christian Association workers in the fortieth international Y. M. C. A. convention which opened here today. Award of these medals was made some time ago. The presentation will be made before an audience of 5,000 delegates from Canada, the United States and its island possessions.

The golden cross of officers of the Royal Order of the Redeemer will be presented to Elwood S. Brown, head of the Y. M. C. A. athletic work in France; and Wilbur A. Reynolds, of Detroit; athletic worker with the 5th and 6th marines, part of the Second division of the United States army. These crosses were conferred on them by King Alexander of Greece in recognition of their work with the allied armies.

French war crosses awarded by Marshal Pétain for courage and gallantry under fire will be presented to Richard G. Shreve, Rochester, N. Y.; Carl D. Lytle, North Brookfield, Mass.; Rev. J. Mandeville Barker, Uniontown, Pa.; Thomas W. Wilber, New Britain, Conn.; W. R. Farmer, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and Rev. Mervin G. Johnson, Baltimore, Md.

Leaders in industry, education and the church will participate in the convention. How to make the Y. M. C. A. an agency for keeping young men in country districts where they can help to produce the food of the nation and the world is one of the important questions for consideration. This will be discussed by Colonel Clarence D. Ousley, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, who will endeavor to explain how to make country-life attractive.

Other questions to be considered include old age pensions for paid workers of the association, for which it is proposed to raise $3,740,000, extension of the association to other lands; possibility of employing women secretaries; stabilization of the men in industry; stamping out of Bolshevism; assimilation of the men of the armies into civilian life, and similar problems. The work of Americanization in industrial centers, including the use of moving pictures in the plan, also will be given attention.

The convention is to close the evening of November 23, with 50 evangelistic meetings in churches of Detroit.

ST. LOUIS SPEAKER PUTS RUMANIA ON MAP

By the Associated Press
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 19.—Basic information concerning the New Rumania and its trade possibilities for American manufacturers was given by Louis H. Van Norman, a trade commissioner of the department of commerce, before the Foreign Trade Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce here recently. Mr. Norman went to the Balkans last January and returned last month.

"New Rumania is as large as Italy and has a population equal to that of Spain," he said. "It is the richest country in natural resources of any of its size in the world. Its soil is the alluvial valley of the Danube, needs no fertilizer and commonly produces enough foodstuffs to feed Rumania and leave 60 per cent of the total available for export. It has unlimited beds of salt, vast forests, enormous oil fields, enough gas to supply all the industries using gas in the world, the whole forming a basic for credit unexcelled."

"Its need is manufactured products and livestock, of which the Germans stripped the nation almost unbelievably. They took 90 per cent of the locomotives and rolling stock of the transportation system, mathematically all of the grains and seeds, all utensils from the kitchens, the linen from the beds, the nails from the walls of the houses. When arrested, they carried away 37,000 acres of the country itself, the topsoil, which caused Von Mackensen to remark: I have left the map. The Rumanians trust America. No nation ever entered trade relations with another having the same measure of good will that the Rumanians stand ready to give Americans. When American, French and British goods are on the shelves, the American goods sell first."

Rumania has been partially nationalized, according to Mr. Norman, but there is no danger of Bolshevism invading the country.

IRVING OUTPLAYS WILLARD
AND TAKES THE GAME, 36 TO
6. NORMAL NOSES OUT VICTORY BY TOUCHDOWN

Football day in Ada proved to be a real sporting occasion, one of the greatest the local sportsmen have ever enjoyed. The Normal managed to push over one touchdown and defeated the High school lads, 6 to 0. Irving school sent over a well trained bunch of lads and took the game from Willard by a score of 36 to 6. The ward school boys demonstrated great football ability, ran good interference and otherwise played scientifically.

The Normal-Highschool game was hotly contested from the beginning. The first quarter saw the ball go back and forth, up and down the field. The Normal showed more punching ability and was faster in making end runs, but the High-school boys got away with some passes for good gains. Neither side was able to put the ball over this period.

Soon after the beginning of the second quarter, Vernon and Heard rushed headlong through and around the Highschool line and Heard shoved the sphere over in the northeast corner. Vernon failed to kick goal, leaving the score 6 to 0. After this neither side was able to make a counter.

Towards the last of the game, the Highschool boys rushed the ball almost entirely across the field on passes, trick runs and occasionally by tearing a hole in the heavy Normal line. At one time the ball was on the Normal's 4-yard line, but a punt out saved the day. Most of the last half was played in Normal territory.

The Highschool lads showed a bit better team work, the carriers of the ball never failing to follow the interference and very seldom failing to make a small gain.
Orr, Mallory, Crawford, Cuning and Derrick divided honors in advancing the sphere, while Oliver proved one of the greatest defensive players of the game. Time after time he tore the plays of the Normal into shreds, blocking forward passes and catching men some distance behind the line. McKendree was another who seemed to fear nothing and was a power in both offense and defense.

For the Normal, Vernon was plainly the star, followed closely by Heard and Toliver. Vernon made mighty gains around the ends, outrunning the entire field, but now and then he forgot and lost ground on running backward. Roach was unable to stay in the game more than a fraction of the time, being supplanted by Montgomery. Montgomery handles the team with great generalship, but has not had the experience in pulling off fake runs that Roach has had. Harkness, the running mate of Heard, made good gains when he was sent dashing madly through the line, but his end runs often failed as a result of his attempting to circle all opposition, thereby losing ground.

The Normal line was superior to that of the city lads. King and Toliver are no faster than McKendree and Kerr, but they have more weight and more experience. To this extent, only were they better. Roach at center for the Pedagoggs had the edge on Laird for the Highschool, but when Crawford of the A. H. S. went into the line at Center he was a match for the opponent. Brents and Ingram for the Normal were a pretty even match for Oliver and McKewon for the Highschool.

The game was unique in that the best of feeling went the entire time. Both sides have been trained in clean sportsmanship and every man worked every minute. It was a fight by the Normal to uphold its past record as the leader in athletic sports in this part of the state, and the 100 percent effort of the Highschool to uphold this and stand out itself as the "he con" of the sports. The games were well attended, and the spectators were given plenty of thrills.

KILLS HIMSELF; PLANS FUNERAL

FEDERAL OFFICER TAKES OWN LIFE IN MUSKOGEE AFTER ARRANGING DETAILS OF FUNERAL.

MUSKOGEE, Nov. 19. — M. R. Armstrong, aged 48, was found dead in his room at the Rockefeller hotel, 219 East Broadway, early Monday morning. A bullet wound through his heart and a small bottle which had contained chloroform, found upon a stand near the bed, told the story of the tragic climax. Physicians said Armstrong had been dead several hours and though the bedroom door was open none of the guests in the hotel aroused by the shot.

Note Outlines Funeral.
Armstrong's body was found by his brother, R. M. Armstrong, proprietor of the hotel, who went to the room early in the morning to call breakfast.

A note written shortly before death gave directions as to the disposition of property and arrangements for the funeral. The note, directed to his brother, requested that the funeral services and interment be "economic" and that the Knights of Pythias lodge be requested to conduct the ceremonies. It even went into such detail as to direct that "the body be first turned over to the undertaker." The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10:30 and burial will be in Greenhill cemetery.

Armstrong had been in ill health for some time and despondency over this is believed to have overwhelmed him.

He is survived by Mrs. M. R. Armstrong, formerly his wife, and a daughter. He had been separated from his wife for several years.

Active in Arkansas Politics.
Armstrong was a deputy United States revenue agent for several years in Arkansas. He first served in the eastern Arkansas district and later he was transferred to Fort Smith, where he was in the government service until a year ago when he resigned and removed to Muskogee. He had been active in Arkansas politics for a number of years, according to his brother.

Upon coming to Muskogee Armstrong bought out the Texas Street grocery which he conducted for about five months. He sold this and purchased a store in Tulsa which he still owns.

Although at one time moderately well off, Armstrong's property now is not believed to be extensive. His plans for the disposition of this were outlined to his brother, who declined Monday to discuss them. Armstrong had spent a considerable sum of money in the last few years in an effort to regain his health and had traveled extensively.

R. M. Armstrong said Monday that he knew of no possible reason for his brother's act except that he had been in very poor health.

"He didn't seem unusually despondent when he retired last night, but he was a man who kept his feelings to himself, and you couldn't tell what was on his mind by his actions," he said.

BOOZE PLENTIFUL IN TEXAS AFFIRMS REVENUE OFFICER

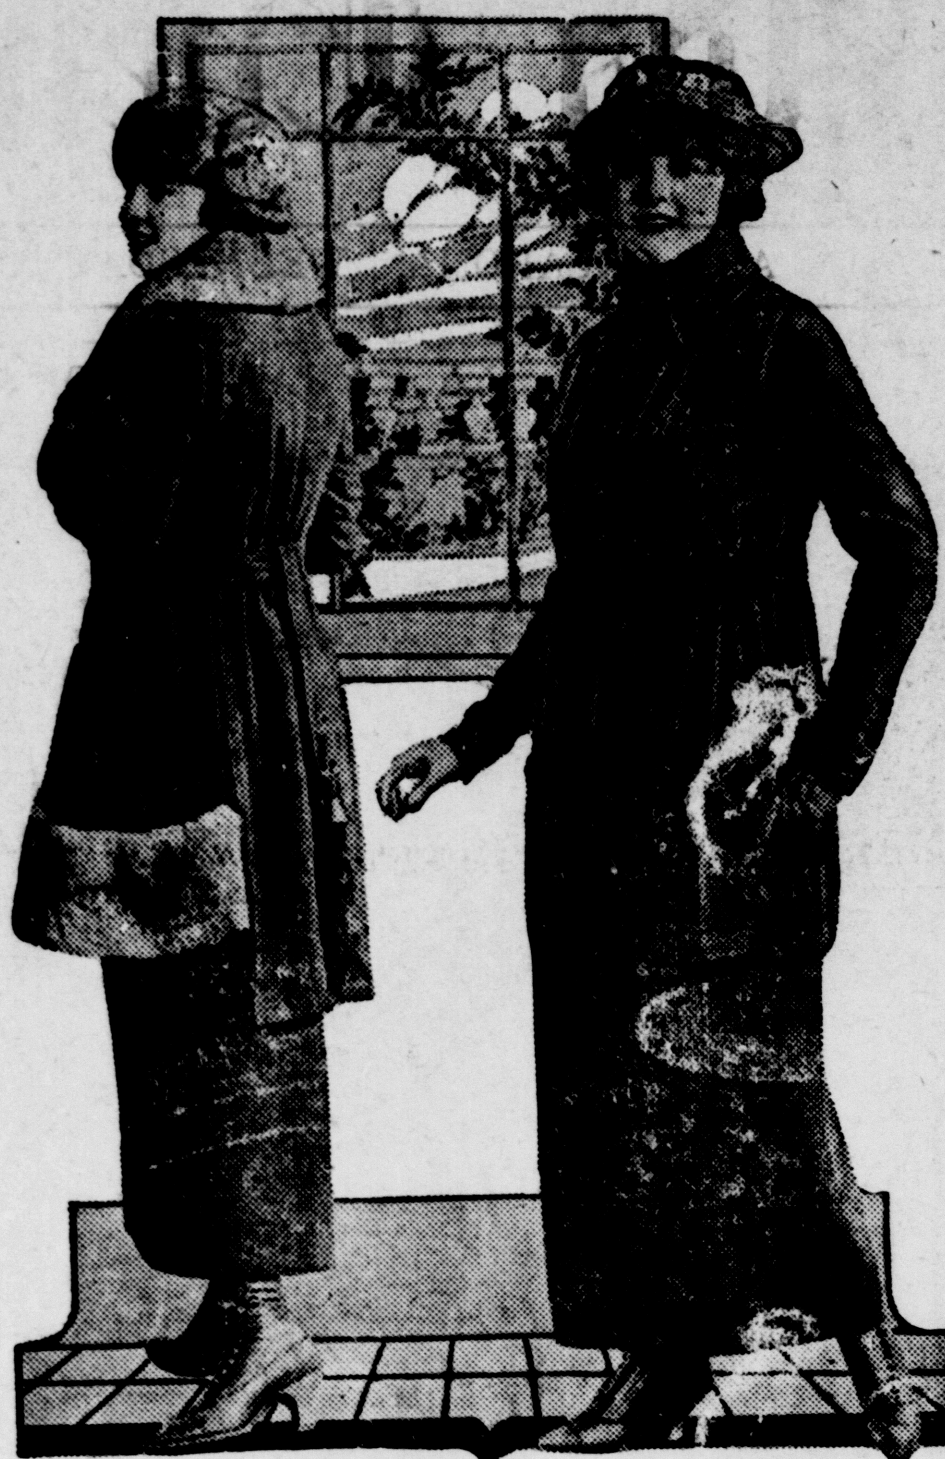

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 19.—There are between 200 and 300 whisky stills operating in Texas, and approximately 10,000 bootleggers in the state, it is believed by local revenue officials, despite the stringent prohibition legislation recently passed. And, despite a published statement, that 60,000 men are combing America for violations of the liquor law the revenue department has only one available man to raid saloons and work up liquor violation cases for the entire state of Texas, according to a statement issued today by Thomas J. Taylor, chief revenue agent for this district. And although Commissioner Roper of the bureau of internal revenue, Washington, reports particularly no violations in the two week's time that the prohibition enforcement bill has been in effect, Mr. Taylor said today that this certainly does not hold good for Texas.

"If the state would do its duty in enforcing the prohibition law," Mr. Taylor said, "there would be little left for the national government to do. But the state law isn't observed, and with one man on the job, it's a pretty difficult thing to enforce the law in Texas."

Rival Styles Present Their Claims

Now that the lives of women are filled by so many interests, tailored suits have manifold duties to perform and therefore the demand for the fancier styles has outrun that for severely plain designs. But both kinds present their claims in the season's offerings and both are represented by examples of excellent designing.

Even in the fancier suits, skirts find it expedient to remain quite plain. They efface themselves in favor of the blouse or smock. One is more or less "dressed up," according to the blouse worn, and it may vary all the way from a shirtwaist to an embroidered and beaded dinner or theater garment.

"Fancy" is to be understood as a trade term for the type of suit that is most sought for. These suits are not much trimmed, but they are enriched with embroideries or fur or tucks or braids, all used with originality and restraint. The cloth suit, at the left of the two shown above is a type of the styles favored, with collar and border of fur. It indulges in a narrow girdle of the cloth, with hanging ends at the back, that are allowed hand-some flat silk tassels as a finish.

The utility suit at the right of the picture depends upon tucks and buttons for its embellishment and is as smart in its way as its dressier rival. It is a sturdy looking affair in which one can face wind and weather, go a-traveling or to business, and will stand much wear and still come up smiling.

MUSKOGEE ORGANIZES SCOTT FERRIS CLUB

MUSKOGEE, Nov. 19.—Temporary organization of a "Ferris-for-Senator" club was being effected Tuesday afternoon by a number of his supporters following the visit of the congressman from the Sixth district in the interests of his candidacy for the United States senate. Temporary officers are to be elected today, but the club will not be permanently organized until early next week, it was said.

The informal gathering today was held at the office of Joe Stone and was attended by W. E. Disney, Paul Williams and various other prominent democrats.

As this is the first "Ferris-for-Senator" club to be organized, it is expected that the movement will spread to other cities of the state.

Congressman Scott Ferris left late Tuesday for Pryor where he was to speak Tuesday night. He will visit Vinita and other points before returning to Oklahoma City the last of the week. Mr. Ferris does not expect to return to Washington until after Thanksgiving as the house is expecting to adjourn today or tomorrow.

"I am greatly elated over my reception here," said Mr. Ferris today. "Muskogee from present indications will go strong for me next summer. And other cities in Eastern Oklahoma seem just as strong for my candidacy."

The well-being of 109,000,000 or more patriotic Americans never will be completely upset, by the vagaries of the other million, declared the congressman in a talk to the Kiwanis club Tuesday noon, in which he took occasion to sound an optimistic note with regard to the prevailing unrest.

"With the exception of a few in-and-out of congress we all stood together during the war," he said, "and we can do it after the war, I am sure. The treaty and league of nations covenant is not yet defeated and, if it passes, the world will go forward on an even keel. Defeat of the treaty would mean that civilization is going backward, not forward."

VERSIGRAMS

By NEIL GRAHAM.

AUTUMN.

There's a charm to me in all of the sadness of the fall in the turning of the leaves in the vale, and the sighing of the breeze through the branches of the trees tells to me a sweet though melancholy tale. Spring that brings the gladness, flowers, spring that trims the woodland bowers, sings a song less clear and touching to my heart. Autumn sings in solemn measures of the flight of summer's pleasures, but it's not forever that these friends must part. It's this hope that in us lies when the heart's beloved one dies; it's this hope that makes life worth its toil and pain, for we know that down below the soft cover of the snow flowers rest awhile before they bloom again. So I like a sober sky while the leaves go chasing by and the first chill of snow is in the air, the grey clouds are swinging low, chasing bird-clouds down below, and the fall's expectant hush is everywhere. Oh, the seasons all are good, bringing health and joy and food, and it's hard to tell which one I like the best, but the gentle pain of fall is the soothingest of all, as it sends the tired flowers to their rest.

WHAT IF PRESIDENT ELECT SHOULD DIE

FEW VOTERS STOP TO THINK WHAT A MESS NATION WOULD BE IN SUCH EVENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—How many of the millions of Americans who vote for their choice for president and vice-president every four years ever have stopped to think what a mess this country would be in if the successful candidate should die between election day and the date of inauguration?

There is one man who is giving the matter much thought and he is Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives from 1911 to this year, and he proposes to introduce some bills to remedy the situation so that the nation never will be confronted with the three or four serious problems that are easily possible, but which the greatest good fortune has kept from the United States during its history.

Three Vital Dates.

These three dates should be remembered as vital points in the curious and unattended situation as regards a possible tangle over the presidential succession in the event of the death of the president-elect:

1.—The election of presidential electors is held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

2.—The electoral colleges of the 48 states meet at their state capital to cast their votes on the second Wednesday in December.

3.—The two houses of congress count the vote of the electors on the third Wednesday in February.

And there are some of the possible perplexities that might arise, as figured out by ex-Speaker Clark:

Suppose the successful candidate dies before the electors meet in December. How would the electors of the 48 states determine who to vote for? It might be possible to reconvene the national convention of the successful party, or the electors from the various states.

Point Not Covered.

The problem arises from the failure of the Constitution of the United States to cover this point in any manner. No such occasion has as yet arisen, but that does not mean

PROSPERITY COMING BACK IN OLD CHILE

By the Associated Press
SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 15.—(By Mail)—Prosperity is coming back to Chile already as a result of the first shipments of part of the 500,000 tons of nitrate sold to English buyers by the committee formed in London by the Nitrate Producers' Association. It will all be delivered within the months of October and March and virtually places the control of the nitrate trade for the time being in the hands of Great Britain. British ships are carrying the fertilizer.

Export duties on nitrate form the main source of the state's revenues and the present fiscal year had shown a heavy deficit on account of the curtailment of nitrate sales. The present undertaking, however, has had a tonic effect on exchange which, at this writing, has gone up almost two points. Likewise, all stocks related to nitrate also have risen.

Unrest in Chile, due to the high cost of living and the desire of labor for better working conditions, took the form early in September of a small strike among the brewery hands which later called out various other trades in sympathy. The general strike lasted five days and troops were called out in some instances to handle trains, street cars, run bakeries and protect non-union men who continued at work.

Two days after the general walk-out, however, the executive committee of the Labor Federation placed their dispute in the hands of the government, declaring that "patriotism impelled them not to hinder the production of the country when every effort was needed to improve the economical situation." The government thereupon appointed a permanent Court of Conciliation which, in future, will consider and arbitrate all other disputes.

BOLSHEVISM IS NIX OVER IN DENMARK

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Oct. 20.—Bolshevism has not obtained so strong a hold in Denmark as it has in Norway, writes a correspondent of the widely-read British weekly, Common Sense. In Denmark the Syndicalists strive to play much the same role as do the Left-Socialists in Norway who are reported to be supporters of the Russian brand of Socialism.

"The Syndicalists, however, make no show in the Danish parliament," says the correspondent. "Since the riots in Copenhagen last November, when the Grontory district in the center of the city was wrecked and many scores of civilians and policemen were injured, there has been a tendency to regard them as a mere anarchist rabble. But, as everywhere in Scandinavia, their power over the wage earners is greater than their voting strength and they have succeeded, usually against the Association of Trades Unions, which has a large majority behind it, in bringing about prolonged strikes."

"The Danish Syndicalists, by violent attacks on the majority Socialist party and denunciation of its leaders Stauning and Borgbjerg, have gained a certain pull among the wage earners."

"The Syndicalists' connection with the Russian Bolsheviks has been repeatedly indicated. This gave the cabinet a good excuse for repression so that arrests, press prosecutions and expulsions take place on a scale inconceivable in Sweden or Norway where the Left-Socialists have the rank of recognized parties."

"Further, the Danish employers are not helpless. They are threatening a great lock out and declare that if the wages demanded costs beyond a certain point, they will cease manufacturing altogether and will in future make their profits by importing and selling cheaper foreign goods."

SMALL FEATHERED HATS ARE FAVORITES

By ELOISE.

The small feathered hat is having an unusual vogue this season, and the small shapes are of many styles. The cloche, which has been almost a uniform shape in Paris, is frequently seen. The turban in one form or another, is always liked and is made of various materials. The small hat with narrow brim rolling sharply up against the crown all around, or at the side, is another good model. The tam o' shanter is still much in vogue. The crowns of these hats have rather less fullness than is usual in such shapes. One noted in pale yellow beaver was fashioned with brim all around. Directly at the front underneath the crown was placed a jade ornament.

This one pictured is a smart affair of plush. It is fashioned with a soft crown and a narrow upturned brim. The plush is taupe colored and uncurled ostrich feathers of a sand shade form a halo about the face by drooping over the brim. Although this hat was an exclusive model some copies of it have already been made which are very charming and more colorful. A blue and a black velvet, both with orange feathers, is the happy thought of one of the imitators. Taupe with green feathers, cherry with black feathers and gray with blue are some of the other combinations we may expect to see.

GUNBOAT BUSY TRYING

TO SINK A U. S. STEAMER

By the Associated Press

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 20.—(By Mail)—A Portuguese gunboat was kept busy all night recently trying to sink an American steamer built of concrete. The vessel, the Milton, 3000 tons, from New York with a cargo of coal caught fire when lying in the river Tagus.

The whole vessel was ablaze in less than half an hour. It was feared that the anchor chains might snap and the ship be carried away and set other ships on fire so it was decided to destroy the ship by gunfire.

After the gunboat had fired 189 shells at her, the Milton slowly heeled over and disappeared from view. Lisbon's population turned out in their thousands to witness the impressive sight.

The Maliciously Inclined.
Malicious people are of two types—the actively malicious and the passively malicious. Between the two there is a difference not of kind but mere degree. The actively malicious are people who delight in belittling and injuring others, whether by petty gossip or outright slander. The passively malicious find a strange pleasure in hearing of anything that is to the discredit of other people.

Unought Fame.

The Efficiency of Advertising

The efficiency of a business depends largely on the speed with which the capital is turned over.

Take the case of a store with a capital of $20,000. At 6 per cent, it must charge $1,200 against its goods for interest each year. If it is selling 10,000 articles annually, it must add 12 cents to the price of each article sold as an interest charge. But if by turning its stock more rapidly, it can sell 20,000 articles annually, it only has to add six cents to the price of each article for interest.

Advertising accomplishes this reduction of interest costs. By advertising, a lot of goods can be quickly marketed and turned into cash. The money can be at once used to buy more, instead of having the goods lie idle in a store. As a general rule, non-advertisers keep their goods a longer time than advertisers. So the public has to pay a heavy interest charge on goods lying idle a long time before they can be worked off in non-advertised stores.

TO FORD OWNERS

This shop has gone to the expense of installing all the modern machinery required for overhauling and rebuilding Ford cars. Car owners who bring their work to us have at their command a modern Ford plant and highly specialized Ford workmen.

We subject your car to expert examination, and make whatever repairs are needed just as you would get done in the factory at Detroit. Our Burning-in Machine—the only one in Ada—puts your engine in the best possible condition without resorting to ship-shod methods that are so ruinous to motors.

It is reasonable that we should give the best Ford service, because we sell Ford Cars and want every one of them to make good. Moreover, we use the GENUINE FORD PARTS—not mail order pieces that are bought because the lowest price was the greatest inducement.

You know what your job will cost you before we start to work.

SMART SERGE FROCK FOR GENERAL WEAR

By ELOISE.

Lady Duff Gordon seems to be clinging stubbornly to the long skirt. Although most of the fashion designers, even in America where the long skirts originated, are making skirts considerably shorter for winter wear. There can be nothing very stylish about a skirt which has trailed about in snow and slush, and that may be the reason for many houses making their winter skirts at least seven or eight inches from the ground. This frock, from a collection by Lady Duff Gordon, keeps the extremely long skirt. Aside from that feature it displays most of the newest fashion ideas.

The long waistline is produced by buttoning the skirt onto the blouse at the hips. Then the natural waistline is preserved by the use of a narrow belt of gray suede. Smoked pearl buttons and gray embroidery carry out the gray and blue color scheme, for the frock itself is of navy serge. The frock varies from the usual models by having a collar of odd shape embroidered in the same design as the skirt. Lady Duff Gordon does not believe that a frock must be collarless to be fashionable, although many of her creations do not show collars.

This frock was designed for general wear at home or school or on the street. It is marked by simplicity in every line.

THOUGHT HIS TIME HAD COME

"I never was more surprised in my life than when I took the first dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. My stomach trouble had been of eight years' standing, sometimes so bad as to cause convulsions, followed by hemorrhage. I thought my time in this world was short, and believed it the last medicine I would ever take. It is now eight weeks since, and I am feeling better than for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

My back had been giving me a steady, grinding ache just over my hips and when I tried to lift anything or stoop over, I could hardly straighten. PIONEERS OF AVIATION

Man has recently reached the point where he can claim to have conquered the air. Thus is fulfilled a dream as old as human thought. The story of Icarus and his wings, whose melted wax caused so disastrous a fall, and if his modern prototype, Darius Green, is well known, but real historical personages who were pioneers in the field of aerial investigation are not so well known. Over in Japan there is preserved the story of a man named Kokichi, who in olden times so offended the authorities of Okayama by his attempts at aviation that he was forced into exile. There was an aviator of mystery in France during the middle ages—a crazy Norman who flew across the Seine

RED TRIANGLE MEN IN DETROIT

ORGANIZATION OF 30,000 WELFARE WORKERS PLAN OF Y. M. C. A. MEETING IN DETROIT.

By the Associated Press

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 18.—Organization of 30,000 welfare workers of the Young Men's Christian Association who wore the "red triangle" during the war is to be effected at the fortieth triennial convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of North America which opens here tomorrow for five days' sessions, ending next Sunday night. Important subjects to be discussed will be those of world-wide expansion of the Y. M. C. A. on a permanent peace-time basis, continuation of American "Y" work overseas, co-operation of the organization in helping to assimilate back into American and Canadian civil life the 5,300,000 men who served in both armies and navies, plans to help stamp out Bolshevism, the building of army "huts" for ex-servicemen in rural districts, the possible employment of women as Y. M. C. A. secretaries, 2,700 of them having served during the war, expansion of work on behalf of negroes and the furtherance of co-operation between Protestant churches.

In all the history of the Y. M. C. A. there has never been an assembly called to present so many issues of urgent importance," said Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the International Committee and National War Work Council of the organization, tonight.

Five thousand delegates, including Y. M. C. A. leaders from virtually every part of the world, are gathered here for the convention. F. W. Ayer of Philadelphia will be temporary chairman. The conference will be the first international gathering since the United States entered the war, the last having been held in Cleveland in 1916. Five continents are represented and there are delegations from Canada, Mexico and the insular possessions of the United States as well as from Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia. Canada's representatives include G. H. Wood, chairman; and Charles W. Bishop, general secretary of the National Council of Canada, both of Toronto. Richard Williamson of Mexico City is here representing the Mexican Y. M. C. A.

A typical "Y" hut of the army cantonment type and a replica of the shell-shattered French dwellings at Verdennes which served as a temporary Red Triangle front-line canteen, have been erected in Grand Circus Park in the heart of Detroit's business section, and house a comprehensive exhibit of the Y. M. C. A. war work, which will be opened to the public tomorrow.

Among those who will speak on continued cooperation of the Y. M. C. A. with the army and navy will be Secretary Daniels and Commander Claude B. Mayo of the Bureau of Navigation, representing the navy, and Lieut.-Colonel Jason S. Joy, heading the Camp Activities Section of the War Department, representing the army.

Plans for the expansion of the "Y" work abroad include not only its financing from America but American workers. Delegates will be present representing the French Foyer du Soldat, the new Polish and Czechoslovak branches of the Y. M. C. A., the Italian Casa del Soldato, the British and Australian national councils and branches of the Y. M. C. A. in Egypt, South America, Constantinople, Tokio, Shanghai and Calcutta.

Three special commissions which have been studying and surveying various questions in advance of the convention will make reports. They are:

The Commission on the Occupation of the World-Wide Field, L. A. Crossett, Boston, chairman; Cyrus H. McCormick, Chicago, vice-chairman; A. C. Bedford and George W. Perkins, New York City; John G. Eagan, Atlanta; Governor Carl E. Milliken, Maine; R. E. Olds, Lansing, Mich.; E. Rogers Kemp, Tulsa, Okla.; L. A. Coulter, Dallas, Tex.; L. T. Warner, Bridgeport, Conn.; D. H. McAlpine, Morristown, N. J., and others.

The Commission on the Conservation of the Values of the Y. M. C. A. War Work, Joseph T. Alling, Rochester, chairman.

The Committee on the Relation of the Y. M. C. A. to the churches, President W. Douglas McKenzie, Hartford Theological Seminary, chairman.

Surprised.

The pastor of Oak Avenue Baptist Church and his wife received quite a surprise pounding last evening. A fine young rooster, sweet and Irish potatoes, sugar, coffee, canned stuff, cakes, etc., all piled up on the table and around on the floor. A plate of fine homemade candies was also included. When all was quieted Mr. Sneed threatened to stay until the chicken was cooked. He claims he can chew chicken.

Mr. Harrison, superintendent of the Sunday School, made a talk in behalf of the church and said many good things relative to the future. The pastor responded with remarks on Friendship, Fellowship and Love. The pastor and wife appreciate this visit very much and extend invitation to all to return at any time. A. P. Elliff.

MEXICAN COIN NOW WORTH MORE THAN FACE

By the Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 1. — The most persistent phrase encountered by the buying public in Mexico at present is "No hay cambio," "there is no change." The silver in the Mexican peso, fifty cent piece, and the smaller coins, is worth more than the face value of the coin, so this money has been hoarded by many persons and sold for their silver content.

The result is that "cambio" or change has disappeared and persons who buy or sell are forced to pay from four to seven percent for silver pieces from brokers. Most merchants refuse to make small sales if they are forced to give change, asserting they would lose money in the transaction.

The "azteca" or Mexican twenty-peso piece (gold) is practically useless as money in stores or cafes when the purchase is for a small amount.

"I might as well be broke as have an azteca," complained an American who was hungry and could not find a cafe to change his gold. Later he hit upon a unique scheme. He deposited the "azteca" with the cafe proprietor and proceeded to eat at intervals until he had no more credit, which with prevailing prices was not a long time.

WAGONER NEGRO WAS NOT PARDONED AT ALL

WAGONER, Okla., Nov. 19.—(Special.) Officers of several eastern Oklahoma counties are now on the lookout for Tom McGee, notorious negro thief, whose appearance here several days ago "on parole" from the state penitentiary at McAlester caused a storm of protest. So loud and prolonged was the howl of complaint from Wagoner county people that it reached the executive offices at Oklahoma City, and an order was issued to have McGee picked up and hustled back to the state penitentiary where he is serving a five-year sentence for grand larceny.

Investigation has disclosed that McGee was not paroled at all, but simply was granted a thirty-day leave of absence by the state pardon and parole board. He was released on November 6, and is to be back in prison by December 6. But if officers are able to locate him he will be back even before then. The reason for McGee's leave of absence has not been learned. He has not been seen here since the day last week when he appeared and announced he had been paroled.

GERMANY WRESTLES WITH LABOR PROBLEM

By the Associated Press
BERLIN, Oct. 20. (By Mail)—The German industrial world is confronted with a problem in the organization and operation of councils of wage earners and employees in many lines of industry. The National Assembly or the Reichstag will be called upon to determine whether such councils shall be made compulsory by law. This is regarded here as one of the most difficult questions confronting the legislators of the republic.

The Committee on Industrial Councils of the National Assembly has approved a draft of a proposed law by which a council of employees would be compulsory in every business establishment employing more than 20 persons.

German newspapers express grave doubt as to whether the council system will prove a success and assert

The councils in two of these metal working shops have unanimously voted that members of only one party shall be employed in those establishments. The trend of many of the councils is frankly directed against the employment of women in positions which men can fill.

The council of one of the leading hotels in Berlin is composed of a waiter, painter and a fireman. It recently demanded the dismissal of a married woman who with her husband, worked in the hotel, on the ground that both should not draw salaries. After the woman protested, the demand was withdrawn but the council has compelled the manager of the hotel to dismiss two competent women employees and replaced them with men.

that the newspaper industry is threatened with strikes because of personal political differences among their employees. The plan of permitting councils of employees to have a voice in the control of industries was sponsored and originated by the Majority Socialist Party. Recently their own plan has reacted against them for the Independent Socialists have obtained control of the employees' councils in some metal working plants and have ruled that Majority Socialists must be dismissed. When the employers endeavored to assert the principle that they should hire men for what they could do, not because of their politics, the Independents replied that it would be better for members of one political faith only to be employed in a factory so that no time would be lost in political arguments.

Meeting in Oklahoma City

The meeting yesterday in Oklahoma City in the interest of Near East Relief was a very interesting one. C. V. Dunn, of Ada, attended the meeting. There were quite a number of county men and women from different parts of the state in attendance. Addresses were made by Dr. Geo. H. Trull, Presbyterian minister, who was in a commission that visited the Near East for purposes of investigation. General Mesrop Newton Azgabetian, an Armenian, and formerly of the Imperial Russian army; F. L. Carpenter, present state secretary of the work in Oklahoma; Perry E. Pierce, former state secretary, now state chairman; Florence Spencer Duryea, who is working with the women of America in the interest of Armenian and other sufferers; and J. O. Arrol, who was in Y. M. C. A. work in Caucasus, addressed the gathering.

Mr. Arrol showed actual photographs of conditions in the Near East. It made a fellow feel like giving all he had to relieve the awful suffering in Armenia and the surrounding country. Mr. Mace, of New York, was chairman of the meeting. A geographical address was given by Mr. H. C. Jaquith, assistant secretary in New York.

A campaign is being conducted all over the country in the interest of the sufferers in that devastated and outraged region. $30,000,000 is being raised. Oklahoma and Ada should do their part, and we are sure they will. The local committee, consisting of O. N. Walker, William G. Moser, Walter Goynes, L. A. Ellison, C. E. Cunningham, and C. V. Dunn, have decided to put on the drive in Pontotoc county December 8. Watch the paper for further articles.—C. V. Dunn, Chairman.

In Memory of Mother Collins.

It matters very little for one to say that Mrs. M. A. Collins was born in Wheeling, West Virginia, on August the twenty-third, 1841. It does matter a great deal for one to be able to say that our good friend lived the selfless life and acquired a beautiful character. When word came to us that Sister Collins had died, we instinctively said: "She lived to die, and she died to live." All through her life she devoted her energies to others and so found the supreme happiness for herself. Even in sickness and suffering she thought first of others and only after that of herself. She made heaven sure by making life worthwhile. She was bound to heaven by golden chains of righteousness that had the promise for the life that is and for that which is to come.

Of course death had no terror for Mother Collins. She had a Divine Companion for the valley of shadows. To her Christ was a real presence, closer than breathing and nearer than hands and feet. She felt the sustaining power of the Savior's grace in death as well as life. She lived her creed between the Sabbath, and so when she left the charmed circle of weeping relatives, she left behind a good testimony. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for their works do follow them." Her work will follow her. To her weeping ones we would say that it is certain that she awaits us in the windowless palace of dreams.

Her life was a harp of many strings tuned by a hand divine. Its dominant notes, the battle call, its discordant notes, if no life is wholly without them, were but the expressions of that human infirmity which discriminates every mortal life from that of the Divine Man whose banner she bore in the forefront of the fight with a devotion that never cooled and a courage that never failed. We know where to look for her. She cannot come to us, but we can go to her. Living as she has lived we shall meet her in the calm land beyond the harbor bar.

"Sleep, beloved, sleep, and take thy rest. Lay down thy head upon the Savior's breast; We loved thee well, but Jesus loved thee best. Sleep well, sleep well, sleep well!" —Wallace M. Crutchfield, Pastor.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

by Mary Graham, Donor 9.2.2

THE GENEROUS PARROT.

"It was a warm day," said Daddy, "even though there had already been some cool weather, but the sun was shining and the people were out-of-doors again as though the summer were still with them."

"Among the others who were out-of-doors were a number of pigeons who were playing on a lawn, picking up little bites to eat, two dogs, who didn't bother the pigeons at all, a child, two birds and a parrot."

"The dogs were playing and they too were on the lawn."

"The pigeons flew up and then came down again and talked to each other in their lovely soft, cooing way."

"The child was sitting in a swing which hung from an enormous tree, and which also hung on long and heavy chains."

"I'm sixty years old," the swing said to itself, as it cracked along, "and I've seen children grow up into ladies and gentlemen and I've seen them grow up into boys and girls, which, by the way, they do first of all."

"But I will watch more that goes on," the swing continued, "for though I may be old I am very, very strong."

"So the child swung backwards and forwards and sang to herself."

"The trees whispered and sang and laughed in the soft warm breeze."

"The two birds chirped to each other and chatted but the parrot was having the best time of all."

"Hello," he said, "hello," and the creatures he was speaking to were two chipmunks who had come up at one side of his cage and were taking his seed.

"He did not mind their taking his seed at all, and the child, sitting in the swing laughed as she saw the little chipmunks taking the parrot's seed away and every time they came up for more Polly would cheerfully and cordially say, 'Hello, hello.'"

"Of course he knew he would get more before he was put to bed, but still it was generous of him not to mind how much of his food the chipmunks took. It showed a really generous spirit and the child laughed to herself as she saw the chipmunks, hurrying and scurrying, getting all the seed they could, not bothering to say, 'Thank-You,' and the generous Polly Parrot saying every single time they came up to his cage to take his seed, 'Hello, hello, hello there.'"

"But he was also talking to them in his chattering way which the child could not understand."

"I thought," he said, "that you had gathered all your supply for the winter."

"The chipmunks said nothing but merely helped themselves to more."

"Of course," said the parrot, "I don't want you to feel bashful."

"The chipmunks answered this by their actions. They took more and did not appear bashful."

"But I had made a mistake for I thought you had all your winter's supply of food and all the food you could eat for ever so long when last we saw each other."

"I suppose though you do not want to waste such a lovely day."

"They said nothing, but if they had answered they would have said they didn't want to waste a day when he was out. And not so much, either, because he went out, but because he came out of his cage with his seed and water."

"So while the other creatures played and thought and enjoyed the nice warm day which was so unexpected, the chipmunks worked as hard as they could to eat and save, and ate so they wouldn't have to eat their savings at home!"

"And through it all Polly Parrot kept very cheerful and very pleasant and never failed to say to the chipmunks at almost every nibble they had, 'Hello, hello, hello there.'"

"And though the chipmunks didn't bother to say thank you because they were so busy they really were grateful, and Polly Parrot knew it."

What He Got.

With the idea of being agreeable, the visitor asked her hostess' children what they learned at school.

"I," said the eldest, "get reading, writing, spelling and arithmetic."

"And what do you get, my little man?" said the visitor, addressing the littlest one, who had listened in a bored way while the others ran through their lists of accomplishments.

"Oh," he replied promptly, "I gets redin', spellin' and spankin'."

Big Methodist School Can Be Located in Ada

Rev. R. E. L. Morgan, educational secretary of the M. E. Church, South, for the two Oklahoma conferences, will be in Ada next Tuesday to confer with the Chamber of Commerce in the matter of locating the big million and a half dollar Methodist school for Ada.

The Chamber of Commerce of the city is working in conjunction with the officers of the M. E. Church, all of whom are enthusiastic over the probability of landing the big school in Ada. It might not be out of place to mention that Ada is the second town in the state to make a bid for the school.

The officers of the M. E. Church of this city at the present time are men of influence and high standing, not only locally but throughout the state, and it is not at all improbable that we may stand a first class chance of getting this great enterprise located in this city.

O. N. Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is on the job, and all who know Walker know that he never lets the grass grow under his feet when there is a possibility of landing some good enterprise for the city. He says that it is not at all improbable that we get the school.

LIKE FLOCK OF BIRDS COME THE BIG AEROPLANES

Like a flock of birds, who wing their way from the cold North to the sunny Southland, at each summer's close, the Service Aviation company's fleet of 14 aeroplanes flew from Wabash, Ind., to Fort Worth, Texas, recently to establish a winter base there. This trip of over 1000 miles is the longest commercial flight ever attempted, and the successful arrival of the ships at Fort Worth is a remarkable achievement. The fleet is now permanently establish at a huge landing field, and groups of the fliers will make trips into different parts of the south and southwest. Mr. Sweeney, one of the most daring and brilliant of the pilots, accompanied by Flight Mechanics, will arrive in Ada on November 21, for the purpose of carrying passengers. All along their 1,000 mile cross country dash southward, they met the highest approbation, and their passengers on the trip number into the hundreds. Although their primary purpose is to deliver spare motor parts for the Service Motor Truck company, of Wabash, Ind., they will from time to time devote several
